

Court Day Brings Hundreds To City

A beautiful November court day morning brought hundreds to the city, many of whom were bent on business.

The stock sales were largely attended by citizens of Eastern Kentucky who were here with about 5,000 head of good cattle. So eager were the buyers that they met the cattle coming in and purchased about 1,500 before they reached the pens. There were in the pens about 3,500, making a total of not far from 5,000 head.

All stock was good and in fine condition. Trading was brisk and before the setting of the sun the pens had been emptied.

The drovers were happy with their sales as were feeders with their purchases. The last to be sold was a small 350-pound steer, which a drover turned over to a farmer for $13. For this steer the drover rejected an offer of $20 in the early forenoon. The buyers came from Clark, Fayette, Woodford, Nicholas, Madison and Montgomery counties and quite a few were from out of the state. The cattle supply was from Powell, Menifee, Morgan, Elliott, Magoffin, Wolfe and many other Eastern Kentucky counties. Montgomery and other bluegrass counties contributed to the sales also. Feed cattle and good round heifers brought $4.10 to $4.80 and extra good brought $5. One Ohio purchaser got 25 top feeding steers at 6 cents with two that were not so good at 5 cents.

U. S. Whitaker sold 20 heifers, averaging about 400 pounds, at 5 cents. All good steers brought from 4 1-2 cents to 5 and 6 cents, according to quality. Commons sold for 1 and 2 cents. The inferior heifer brought $3.50 and up and one extra bunch of steers belonging to Filmore Webb, weighing 650 pounds, sold to Clarence Lebus at 5 cents.

Yearling mules were active at prices ranging from $50 to $75 and work mules of good size brought from $125 to $150.

Plug horses, just any old thing, sold from $25 and up to $65, while good work horses changed hands at $100, $125 and $150.

Swappers were numerous and traded just to keep things interesting.

We interviewed the clothiers, the dry goods dealers, notions dealers, grocers, drug, furniture and soft drink merchants and all of them re-

Rollin Moore Dead In Lexington Room

Sunday's Lexington Leader says: "Rollin Moore, 50, painter, living at the rooming house of Mrs. Iey Tufts, 426 West Main street, was found dead in his room at 1:30 o'clock on Sunday morning. The man was dressed only in night clothes, which were freshly torn in several places, indicating that he had been engaged in some kind of struggle. A gas stove was overturned as was other furniture in the room. Another man was lying on a bed in the same room in a drunken stupor."

Rollin Moore was a son of the late William Moore, who was a former resident of this city, and at one time an employe of The Advocate. Rollin was a young man of a fine spirit, but, just like many other good boys, had become addicted to the drink habit, and, of course, flattering prospects had their ending. It had been said of him that he had been redeemed from the curse and was making good as a painter in Lexington.

Moore had been rooming in this house since last May. Thus ends the last of the family of William Moore, and a sad ending it is.

Oil Excitement In Menifee New Field

Ten miles from former fields on Richardson, on the 1,800-acre plot of the Jarett Manufacturing Co., H. J. Back and I. E. Kirk brought in a 10-barrel well of high grade oil on Saturday. This well is at a point just 4 1-2 miles from Frenchburg.

It is the opinion of oil experts that this well is on the border of a large pool on these lands and others nearby. Speculators and promoters are very much encouraged over the prospect and more wells will go down at an early date.

M. O. Cockrell Sells Business Property

M. O. Cockrell, as executor of the estate of his father, the late B. F. Cockrell, sold yesterday at public auction the following buildings: On West Main street a two-story brick, occupied by J. H. Keller, to Mrs. George McAllister for $8,450; on the same street a two-third interest in a double building occupied by H. G. Hoffman, W. O. Mackie, R. H. Winn and John A. Judy to Messrs. Judy and Winn for $7,000; on the same street a two-story brick building occupied by the Candy Kitchen and Dr. Knox to M. O. Cockrell for $4,000; on East Main street a two-story brick building occupied by Sam Hollearn to M. O. Cockrell for $2,650. The prices obtained for most of the property were considered fairly good.

Former Local Man Victim of Robbers

A message from Paris states that burglars broke into the carriage shop of Charles Heck in that city Sunday morning and stole the wrought iron cash drawer to the safe and its contents, consisting of $100 worth of war savings stamps and a number of checks, amounting to approximately $60. The safe was not unlocked. The many friends of Mr. Heck will be sorry to hear of his misfortune.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Master Commissioner Will Ed Jones sold yesterday from the court house door the following property: The Dale Carter place of 5 1-2 acres on the Paris pike to F. D. Richardson for $802. One-sixth interest in the Samuels property on Main street to W. H. Strossman. The property of Mrs. Lucinda Thompson at Howards Mill to Taylor Howard for $1,500. A house and lot on Harrison avenue belonging to same party was sold to Mrs. Mary E. Davis for $2,500. Eight and one-half acres of property of Harriett Maupin, colored, of near Side View, was sold to Dallas Bean for $900.

Centre Triumphs Over Washington and Lee

On a muddy field at Louisville on Saturday Centre College defeated Washington and Lee by the score of 25 to 0. On the same day Harvard defeated Yale by the score of 10 to 3, and as the Centre eleven had previously defeated Harvard by the score of 6 to 0, the "dope" seems to give Centre College the best football team in the country. All Kentuckians, whether football enthusiasts or not, are proud of the wonderful record made by the Danville boys this season.

CHAPLIN A CHESTERFIELD IN "THE IDLE CLASS"

It took Charles Chaplin just twenty-two weeks to make "The Idle Class," his latest comedy for First National, which comes to the Tabb Theatre Thanksgiving. Besides Mr. Chaplin the cast of "The Idle Class" consists of Edna Purviance, Loyal Underwood, Harry Bergman, Rex Storey, John Rand, Lelita Parker and Allan Garcia. In many of the scenes Mr. Chaplin plays it straight, with the exception of his mustache. And in au fait evening clothes, trying to conduct himself as a Lord Chesterfield should, Charlie almost splits one's sides. Then, just to pile on the agony, he shifts back to the familiar bedraggled afternoon coat, dented derby and leaky shoes.

The eugenists plan to produce a perfect woman.—Los Angeles Times. What they will do with her is another question. It is likely, however, that she will be grabbed by the movies.

WITHOUT BIRDS RACE WOULD COME TO END

Man might lose horses, cattle, hogs, sheep and yet contrive to live. But it is fairly safe to prophecy that if all birds were exterminated human life would cease within ten years.

This statement, startling as it may sound, is cold truth, for if there were no birds to keep their numbers down, noxious insects would increase so rapidly that all vegetation would be destroyed, all grain and grass-eating creatures would consequently become extinct, and the few survivors of the human race would be driven to the far Arctic to eke out a miserable existence on fish, whale or seal flesh.

We say the "appetite of a bird" as a synonym for a small eater. The truth is that no other class of living creatures possesses so insatiable an appetite as the bird.

There is nothing wonderful in this. The normal temperature of birds is several degrees higher than that of man, their digestion works far more rapidly and almost any bird, if deprived of food for a comparatively short time, dies of starvation.

Every country is coming to the knowledge of the enormous value of birds, and small birds are protected by law in England, France and even in Italy, where until lately they were being steadily exterminated.

MARKETING ASSOCIATION IS NOW A REALITY

The Co-operative Marketing Association of the burley tobacco growers of Kentucky is a reality.

This means that the forty thousand farmers in the burley district who depend in large measure upon tobacco as their money crop have made up their minds to work for and with one another to secure at least a reasonable price for their product.

It means that many thousands of families in Kentucky who today are facing financial ruin, will now take heart, renew their courage and look forward with confidence to the future.

There is a well-established demand for burley tobacco. Recent sales in other states show that this demand is pressing enough this year to insure good prices in Kentucky, providing the 1921 crop is not dumped recklessly into the hands of the men who want to buy it.

This newspaper is optimistic enough to believe that the big tobacco buyers will fall into line at once, and that ultimately they will wonder why the co-operative marketing association was not organized many years before it became a fixed fact in the tobacco industry.

Any agency which brings men together in friendly relations and results in commercial transactions profitable to all, must in the very nature of things be generally beneficial.

With the marketing association working successfully, a new era will break in the burley district of Kentucky. The landowner and the tenant will share alike in the resultant prosperity and out of their abundance will come better times for all in country and in town.

It should be borne in mind, however, that there are some knotty problems yet to be ironed out. The transfer of the large warehousing interests must be made in a spirit of fairness, and the man with a crop ready for market must be patient while the sales organization is getting ready to handle the tremendous quantity of tobacco which shortly will be ready for the breaks.

The situation likewise requires patriotic and discreet consideration by the men who have not as yet decided what they are going to do with respect to the co-operative plan. Whether we are to have an orderly disposition of the minor adjustments yet to be completed depends upon how far those who are "in" and those who are "out" exercise good sense and discretion.

It is not too much to ask of all that they bow to the will of an overwhelming majority and give the plan at least a fair trial.

The marketing association, it was stated at the meeting Wednesday night, will at once select a committee authorized to negotiate at once with the tobacco buyers for a sale of

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery:

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 85 all or a part of the 1921 crop pledged to the association. This course will prevent delay and enable the association to begin its principal task, the selling of tobacco, at an earlier date perhaps than was generally anticipated. This is very gratifying.

In passing, it should be said that the tobacco growers of Kentucky owe to Judge Robert W. Bingham a tremendous debt of gratitude. Other men all over the tobacco-growing area, it is true, rallied splendidly to the call and spent unselfishly of their time and of their means to make this dream come true, but after all is said, it must be admitted that it was Judge Bingham's breadth of vision and his magnificent financial and moral support which gave heart and soul to the movement.

Despair Lurks In Weak Blood

Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the Blood Builder, Arouses Dull Faculties

Many a man and many a woman feels all out of sorts from thin weakened blood. The least little thing gone wrong throws them into a wild form of despondency. Instead of bracing up and meeting ordinary difficulties, they are downed. Nerves are on edge. Appetite lags. Sleep is restless. They are weak and tired and dull. Poor blood works its havoc till the will loses its power. Few people who fall into habits of worry and despondency realize that most of their troubles are due to lack of endurance—to blood that has become weakened by overwork or straining.

Healthy men and women with rich red blood see things brightly. They tackle life with zest and go along smilingly, full of eagerness and endurance.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan taken steadily restores the blood to its natural richness. It actually makes red corpuscles, the tiny particles in blood which make it red. Druggists have Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid and tablet form.—Advertisement.

One grand assault on the magnificent digestion was expected during the visit to that great Amerique. Tres bien, and one had been in the training for the glorious eatings. But, pour l'amour de Mike, it is les cheveau of other colors to train for the unexpected company of a wild bob-cat, is it not that it is?

Consequently the undomesticated kitten presented Marshal Foch by Montana members of the American Legion now bays at the moon in a cage at the Bronx zoo, New York, and Le Marechal sleeps of nights.

The untamed tabby, brought 1,500 miles by airplane by Montana legionnaires and given the marshal at Kansas City, rapidly changed into a white elephant. The Foch party carried it in a strongbox from the west and through several eastern cities, newspaper men of the special train standing guard. But when the Foch special stopped in New York for an hour en route to Princeton University and while the allied generalissimo was still abed, the Montana mascot was quietly transferred onto a truck and hurried through the early morning hours to the zoological gardens. The spirits of the Montana legionnaires and their bob-cat was highly appreciated, but "Voila!" as the French said it.

Disinterment of the bodies of the American soldiers buried in Brest, France, during the war, has been completed, according to word received by the American Legion. Army authorities have forwarded to the four permanent American cemeteries in France 1,080 bodies, removal of which to the United States was not requested by the relatives.

CAMPBELL BOY BEATS

FATHER'S CORN YIELD

A Campbell county junior agricultural club boy has demonstrated again that it is sometimes possible for boys to produce better crops and livestock than their fathers by following prescribed practices. A report from County Agent H. F. Link states that one of the young corn growers in the county produced more than 85 bushels of corn on an acre or a 30 per cent greater yield than was obtained by his father in the same field. No commercial fertilizer was used in either case, the difference in yield being due to the application of manure, the use of good seed and correct cultivation, the report states.

10,000 RETAIL STORES

Some time ago, just about two months back, we had something to say about the Long-Green Tobacco Company of this city. In that article The Advocate had a prediction and now we have to say that prediction is being verified. The promoters of this enterprise, Messrs. Clay Cooper and Howard Turner, gave out a report when the company was only five months old. Today with a working life of seven months this company is supplying ten states through seventy-four jobbers that distribute to 2,200 retail stores. The goal of this company is to attain to 10,000 retail distributors. This phenomenal growth is due to two things: First, the use of the highest grades of tobacco and, second, in giving the customers full money's worth.

This enterprise is worth while to Mt. Sterling in that it gathers from outside territory and dispenses here. The same method that has been effective for the past two years by The Advocate and it is for the promulgation of such theories that our chambers of commerce and commercial clubs and boards of trade have reasons for organization. Louisville, Paducah, Owensboro, Lexington, Winchester, Mt. Sterling and all other thriving cities have these organizations and through them infuse a spirit of industry and enterprise that counts. They are backed every one of them by the press of the respective cities as is our local organization and enterprises are by The Advocate.

Quality, pluck and enterprise win and it is in this company we find the Long-Green Tobacco Company and note its wonderful financial success. We want to suggest to some business men with enterprise like unto Messrs. Cooper and Turner that they get together into a cigar manufacturing plant. Just as great a success could be made as has been attained by the Long-Green Tobacco Company.

RECIPE FOR SUCCESS

Take equal parts of ambition, purpose and courage, and add the yeast of knowledge, perseverance and determination.

To this add an abundance of "pep," tact, honesty, originality and aggressiveness.

Then flavor this according to taste with the essence of cheerfulness, sincerity and the extract of optimism and kindness.

After flavoring is added, mix thoroughly by stirring with an iron will, propelled by a 150-horsepower resolution, and let boil forever over the fire of an unconquerable spirit.—Clinton Fugate, Eastern Kentucky Normal School, Richmond.

You who would be blue, you who feel like quitting, just hang up your hat, take a good stretch, take off your coat and act according to this recipe. It will work.

TWAIN ON ADVERTISING

Mark Twain once edited a paper in Missouri. One of his subscribers wrote him he had found a spider in his paper and wanted to know whether it meant good or bad luck. This is what Twain answered:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace forever afterward."

Mark Twain was not a modern day business man, nor did he make the pretensions as such, but his old-fashioned horse sense was by no means a misfit in these present times.

CONTRACTING

Mr. Arthur P. Brown, proprietor of the Olympian Springs Co., is here this week with a force of representatives making water contracts with our people. It is his purpose to furnish 100 families with water fresh from the spring twice each week so that the citizens may have the beneficial results of this celebrated water in their homes. The late Dr. R. Q. Drake, in speaking of these waters, said, "As far as my reading extends, the Olympian Springs has the best medicinal collection of waters on record." THE DIFFERENCE IN MEN

There is a difference in men—
One spreads flattery on so thick
You know it isn't meant to stick,
And all the praise he utters then
Is lost the minute it is heard,
You can't recall a single word.

Another takes your hand and sets
Your blood a-tingle, through and through,
His friendliness is all for you.
He never, when you are down, forgets
To speak the words you long to hear,
Somehow you feel he's always near.

One flatters and his speech is sweet,
But little sugar friendship needs.
Its charm is found in kindly deeds,
And not by words which all repeat
Do men their innermost thoughts reveal,
But something which the heart can feel.

I've known the silent man to stand
Beside me when my heart was numb
And I rejoiced that he had come,
For the pleasure of his hand
I knew unto the bitter end
In him I had a constant friend.

Entertains Missionary Society

The Young Girls' Missionary Society of the Baptist church were entertained Friday evening, November 18, by Miss Mary Bratton Morris at her home on the Winchester pike. After the program Miss Morris, with the assistance of her mother, Mrs. Roy Morris, served lovely refreshments. Those present were: Mrs. S. B. Carrington, Miss Elizabeth McCoun, Miss Susan Wells, Miss Lucile Johnson, Miss Fannette Owings, Miss Louise Hardy, Miss Edna, Dee Owings, Miss Margaret Guthrie and Miss Louise Orear.

Mrs. Clay Entertains

Mrs. J. Will Clay beautifully entertained a large number of her friends at bridge on Wednesday and Friday of the past week at her home on North Maysville street. For both occasions her handsome home was decorated with yellow flowers, and preceding the game an elaborate luncheon was served from the card tables. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. W. C. Clay, Mrs. Tom Greene, Mrs. Albert Bridges, Mrs. W. H. Bridges, Mrs. W. R. McKee and Mrs. Marian Bridges. Mrs. Clay's parties numbered about sixty guests.

Mrs. Lindsay Entertains

Mrs. Charles A. Lindsay was hostess to her card club Saturday evening at her home on West Main street. The highest score was made by Mrs. J. O. Greene, who was awarded the prize, a novelty flower bowl. Following the games Mrs. Lindsay served a delightful supper to her guests, who were: Mrs. Greene, Miss Mary E. Turner, Mrs. Ben Turner, Mrs. J. C. McNeal, Miss Ella Priest, Mrs. C. W. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. John Speer, Mrs. Patty J. Riley, Miss Sozette Johnson, Mrs. Clayton Howell, Mrs. John Stoffer, Mrs. H. G. Hoffman, Mrs. A. C. Bogie, Mrs. B. Frank Perff and Mrs. W. P. Hontington.

Mrs. Prewitt's Luncheon

One of the prettiest parties of a busy social week was the luncheon given on Friday by Mrs. Clifton R. Prewitt at her handsome home on Lexington avenue. A crystal basket of pink roses was used on the table as a center decoration, and an elaborate menu was served. Seated with the hostess at the table were the following guests: Mrs. W. K. Prewitt, Mrs. Dan Chenault, Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, Mrs. D. J. Prewitt, Mrs. W. Lois Thompson, Mrs. J. W. Prewitt, Mrs. B. P. Jeffries, Mrs. N. B. Young, Mrs. Caswell Prewitt, Mrs. R. H. Lane, Mrs. J. Prewitt Young, Mrs. Edward R. Prewitt, Mrs. Henry C. Prewitt, Mrs. Mary Prewitt Turley, Mrs. Henry R. Prewitt, Mrs. Tandy Chenault, Mrs. M. A. Prewitt and Mrs. Allen G. Prewitt.

Rook Party

Mrs. Frank P. Boyd, who entertained at bridge on Tuesday of last week, was hostess at another beautiful party on Thursday, when another group of friends was invited to play rook. Shortly after the guests arrived a delightful luncheon of several courses was served. Assisting Mrs. Boyd were Mrs. J. C. Graves, Mrs. Robert Howell, Mrs. S. D. Hall and Miss Laura Graves, and her guest list included: Mesdames Will Oldham, Prewitt Young, Chas. Highland, Wilmet Prewitt, Charles Duff, Alice Gillespie, B. P. Jeffries, Lester Lee, R. E. May, Robert Judy, A. B. Oldham, Charles Anderson, Albert Stoffer, Clarence White, Will Highland, Ida Reis, Loring Turley, Keller Greene, Will Eubank,

Jr., Earl Farris, Grover Anderson, Paul Strother, Will Howell, Oliver Howell, Jess Highland, Fisher Mark, Steve Pieratt, Richard Jones, John Robinson; Misses Sally Clay, Lola Lawrence and Lyla Farris; Mrs. C. M. Best, of Millersburg.

WORRY

Something to worry about: On the road to normalcy, we have lost baggage, camouflage, terrain and meticulous. But we have found agenda.

DO YOU REMEMBER PEARLINE?

Can lack of advertising kill a well known product? The question is answered today. Many of the old-timers can remember "Pearline," which was nationally advertised and soon became a great success.

The owner died and the trustees of the estate went over the accounts and saw the enormous amount spent for advertising. They decided they would "save" this money and so cut out advertising. As a result sales dropped, and later an attempt was made to get the market back—but it was too late.

Nothing can be so well known but in a short time it can be forgotten—"Pearline" is one of the great examples.

FARM AND HOME NEWS FROM OVER KENTUCKY

Larue county farmers are realizing the advantage of purebred animals over that of scrubs, according to a report from County Agent J. W. Jones. More than 59 purebred Jerseys have been brought into the county during the past year. Sam Keith, R. H. Middleton, Irvine Sprowles and Barney Walters have been the last farmers to purchase purebred animals, the four of them obtaining 24 registered Jerseys as additions to their herds.

Campbell county farmers who co-operated with County Agent H. F. Link in conducting demonstrations to show the value of hill selecting potatoes have obtained such marked improvement in the quality and yield of their crops that they will continue the work for another year, while several other farmers are planning to take up similar projects according to a report from the county.

Webster county farmers are receiving satisfaction in their livestock shipments by means of a co-operative livestock shipment association which has been organized, a report from County Agent L. E. Cutler states. The association recently shipped its first car load of hogs at a cost of 33 cents a hundred pounds.

Fifty Fulton county farmers have their poultry flocks enrolled in the winter egg laying project being conducted over the state by the extension division of the College of Agriculture. By following the suggestions on feeding and management which will be given poultrymen enlisted in the movement the Fulton county men hope to increase the egg production of their birds during the winter months.

Apple orcharding is receiving increased attention from Webster county farmers, according to a report of County Agent L. E. Cutler. Several interested ones are planning to conduct fertilizer demonstrations in co-operation with the county agent and the extension division of the College of Agriculture in order to solve important orchard fertility problems connected with the apple industry in the county.

OLIVE HILL DOCTOR SHOT TO DEATH

Dr. H. L. Biggs, 45 years old, was shot to death on the streets of Olive Hill Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock by Charles Duval, also 45, a telephone lineman.

The killing was done with a single barrel shotgun. Dr. Biggs was shot twice and witnesses declared after he had fallen, Duval reloaded and fired another charge into his body. No one was close enough to hear any exchange of words when the men met. Duval surrendered, but declined to make a statement.

It is a common report that Duval objected to attentions of Dr. Biggs, who was a widower, to Duval's daughter. Dr. Biggs was an army surgeon during the war. Duval has a wife and five children. The police found a revolver in Dr. Biggs' pocket when the body was examined.

THE RED CROSS OF PEACE

"The Red Cross of Peace," the pageant given at the Tabb Theatre Thursday night by local talent, played to a crowded house and was well received by an enthusiastic audience. The pageant was directed by Miss Van Meter of Lexington, assisted by Mrs. James Kennedy, Mrs. J. A. Vansant, Mrs. George R. Snyder, Mrs. John Stoffer and Miss Eliza Harris and Mrs. P. D. Bryan. The cast numbered over two hundred and the leading roles were admirably played by Mrs. H. B. Ringo as "Red Cross of Peace," Miss Alma Cox, "Red Cross of War," Mrs. Charles D. Highland, "Community," Miss Elizabeth McCoun, "Humanity," Miss Arris Chiles, "Columbia," and Ben H. Scott as the "Returned Soldier."

SMART CHILDREN

By MARY LOUISE CORMIER.

© 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"I say, pater, can you let me have $50 on account?" There was the usual solicitous expression on William Syl-vester's young face as he made his familiar request. Old John Pennynickie dropped his copy of the Evening Gazette and his mild gray eyes looked out troublously at the boy from behind a barricade of shabby, misshapen spectacles.

"You haven't spent all of your allowance this early, Will?" he demanded. "Why, when I was your age an allowance like that would keep me in funds for a year."

"But, pater, this is the Twentieth century!" William Sylvester's stock wail was delivered with the open exas-peration of seventeen. "Besides, in a one-horse town like Meeds, $50 a month is barely enough to get by on—and keep up appearances, I mean!"
The boy in concluding shot an appealing sidelong glance at his mother.
And that lady, whose ruling ambition was to see her children firmly and safely established "in the right class," rallied to his defense.

"Sylvester is right," she declared in the judicial tone of one used to handling down final decisions; "it is only reasonable to expect that the son of one of Meeds' leading citizens should keep up a decent front."

"I was thinking of the store," said
"pater," offering a feeble defense.
"I've had to sell that last lot of hardware at a loss. Business is pretty dull just now, you know."

"Business again!" Mrs. John Penn-ynickie's crisp voice pounced upon the word scornfully. "Do you consider business more important than your children's future? I must say, John Pennynickie—"

"Oh, all right, mother, all right," capitulated the old man hastily. Anything, he told himself, to escape another of Carrie's tongue-lashings. "You come around to the store in the morning, Will, and I'll fix you up."

"Thanks, pater," William Sylvester flashed a look of triumph in his mother's direction. Then he turned back to his father with an apologetic grin.

"I wouldn't have asked you for this,"
he explained. "If it wasn't for the fact that Norry and Christine are coming home next week. They'll probably bring along some of their swell friends and—well, you know what that means, pater."

"Yes," Pater knew what it meant, well enough. Money! Each time the children came home from college he made feverish trips to the bank. He would do so again.

Norris was the first to tap the parental resources. He and a college chum were planning to establish a summer restaurant.

"Mints of money in it, pater," he confided earnestly. "All I need to start in with is about $500. You could let me have that much, couldn't you?" Pater let him have it. No sooner was this affair concluded than Christine revealed her plan for an elaborate black and white frolic.

"Just a little welcome home party,"
she told her father sweetly. "Please do this for me, pater, darling!" And of course, "pater darling" did.

Christine's little party was a picturesque affair that cost several hundred dollars. Meeds flocked to it and enjoyed itself hugely.

The day after the black and white frolic pater was knocked down by an automobile on South Main street. His family was deeply shocked.

"But I didn't suppose anything could ever happen to pater!" Christine moaned to Doctor Stanton when they went to visit Pennynickie in the Hillside hospital.

"Oh, yes," he responded with thinly veiled sarcasm. "You know even the best machine made is subject to wear and tear. In pater's ward the children lingered about uncomfortably and blamed themselves mercilessly for the calamity. Once outside—they blamed each other. Only Carrie seemed genuinely affected by the accident."

"I'm ashamed of myself, John," she whispered to the bandaged figure on the hospital cot. "We've all been driving you like an old workhorse."

Pater reached up and patted her hand.

"It's all right, mother," he mumbled weakly. "We—we had to think of the children's future, you know. Don't worry. I'll be out of here in a week."
But he was wrong. It was a whole month before he was able to leave the hospital. At home he found two letters awaiting him.

One, containing a bill, was from Christine, who was in the White mountains, "recovering from a nervous breakdown." The other was from Norris.

"The restaurant is coming along slowly," he wrote. "Do you think you could wire an additional $200—just to see the thing through?" Pater showed the two letters to Doctor Stanton, who had accompanied him.

"Well," commented the cynical doctor, "I guess they'll never learn. They should be ashamed of themselves."

"What for?" Pater's head shot up aggressively. A tender light flooded his gray eyes. "Christine was elected president of her class at Wellesley last term. Will made the high school eleven, too. And Norris—what a head for business that boy has! Ashamed?
Not a bit of it! If I do say it myself, they're a right smart set of children!"

Remember Unfortunate On Thanksgiving Day

Thousands of tables will groan
Thanksgiving throughout Kentucky under weight of turkey, cranberry sauce, pies, nuts and all the delicious tid-bits known only to Thanksgiving diners.

But in other thousands of homes
a bare table will be the emblem of poverty; that poverty that is caused by ignorance in the majority of the cases, crime in some instances and rarely misfortune. On this day of Thanksgiving, the Kentucky Children's Home Society, call on the people of Kentucky, the ministers, the school children and the mothers to remember the little homeless waifs, who through no fault of their own,
may have no Thanksgiving dinner;
and if they feast it will be on the crumbs that fall from the tables of those more fortunate.

This is the Thanksgiving appeal sent out by George L. Sehon, superintendent of the Kentucky Children's Home Society, Louisville.
Mr. Sehon points out that but for the work of the society thousands of prosperous men and happy wives who are now citizens of a state that is proud of them, might be living this Thanksgiving Day in poverty and crime; it might have been they whose tables now bend under the weight of the Thanksgiving feast Thursday who might have sat down to a bare table and only the scraps thrown to them by charity.

In nearly every community in the state are prosperous happy persons who were taken in by the Children's Home Society in many of the cases being rescued from squalor and criminal surroundings. In the name of these little children, says Mr. Se-hon, he appeals through the newspapers for money to construct the cottage village, so badly needed to carry on this work of child rescue.

A Wonderful Floor Entirely Devoted to Everything for Boys and Girls of All Ages

Forty-five years ago Mabley's, Cincinnati, was founded upon the idea that the boys and girls of this community were important. For forty-five years that idea has been developing. One result has been a specialized knowledge of young people's needs unequalled anywhere. And another result has been

Parents—and mothers emphatically—cannot help but greatly appreciate the convenience and comfort of doing all the shopping for the boys and girls, from littlest tot to the lad and lass almost ready to step out of their teens, ALL ON ONE FLOOR.

This floor will be one of the city's show places. In its completeness, in size and in its comforts it ranks as one of the few floors of its kind in America.

Its entire 20,000 square feet are given over to

—Boys' Clothes, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Furnishings, Hosiery and Underwear.

—Girls' Dresses, Suit, Coats, Skirts, Millinery, Hosiery, Shoes and Underwear.

—Infants' Apparel of all kinds—Nursery Needs, Furniture and Baby Carriages.

—Children's Barber Shop.

All of which is our admission that we DO like children.

CHARLES CHAPLIN MAKES TWO HUNDRED PRINTS

During the filming of "The Idle Class," his latest First National production, which comes to the Tabb Theatre Thanksgiving, the usual method of making two negatives of a film production, for American and foreign markets, was amplified by Charles Chaplin.

"I watched Chaplin take one scene twelve times," said a guest at the studio. "I presume that he intends to make enough film to supply every large country on the globe with a negative."

Incidentally, it might be mentioned that from the American negative alone of each Chaplin film, more than a hundred prints are made. From the Canadian negative several more prints are duplicated. From the twelve Chaplin negatives there probably will be made close to two hundred prints for exhibition purposes.

900 LIVINGSTON FARMERS

ATTEND COMMUNITY MEET

Livingston county farmers are using community meetings to a good advantage in solving the various problems of their farm business, according to reports received from the county on eight community schools recently held under the direction of the county agent. More than 900 farmers attended the eight meetings which were held in different communities of the county. Livestock and soils and crops subjects were the principal ones discussed by the farmers. R. C. Miller, the sheep extension specialist from the College of Agriculture, and R. E. Stephenson, soils and crops specialist of the college, gave short talks on these phases of farming after which they led discussions by the farmers on problems connected with these subjects in the county.

715,741 Bbls. Oil October Record

Kentucky produced during October a total of 715,741 barrels of crude oil, according to the official report of Secretary E. E. Loomis, of the Kentucky Oil Men's Association, issued Monday. This is only 3,614.56 barrels less than that produced in the previous month of September and shows how steady the state's production is holding up. Both Magoffin and Johnson counties increased their output during the month, the former by five and the latter by four thousand barrels. There was a slight falling off in the production in Western Kentucky field, particularly in Warren county, which explains the slight decrease noted.

Following is the production by counties:

County.	Barrels
Allen	41,007.89
Barren	2,088.74
Bath	1,684.42
Estill	62,090.88
Floyd	298.84

$5,000,000 Road Fund Is Likely

Kentucky could appropriate $5,000,000 for road construction in 90 days, Joe S. Boggs, state highway commissioner, has notified the president's conference on unemployment in response to a circular letter sent all states in an endeavor to ascertain how the unemployment situation would be affected by the recent passage of the federal highway act.

Kentucky's allotment of federal funds under the federal aid would be $1,147,178.68, of which $472,392.89 would be available immediately and the balance January 1.

In addition to this the state has an unexpended balance of $1,913 from the last federal aid act. These amounts would have to be matched by state appropriations before the federal money would become available.

Mr. Boggs in his letter did not estimate the number of men that would receive employment by road construction work in Kentucky, but federal officials said that if the next legislature carries out the program outlined by Mr. Boggs the construction of roads in the state would have a marked effect on unemployment.

THANKSGIVING

(By Delta Hamilton)

Thanksgiving Day will soon be here again,
Through the gates of November it appears quite plain;
This year it bears a message as never before
Of peace and good will, as in days of yore.

'Tis a message of Thanksgiving, a message of peace,
Once more it comes through the clear sky of the east,
And with it a vision of world democracy and
The united brotherhood of nation and man.

'Tis a united thanksgiving for all of the world,
And especially America, our own precious world,
Composed with other nations; it's the greatest on earth,
We love and we honor the day of its birth.

Now she is leader of all nations with her beautiful flag,
When once England called it a low, dirty rag,
But now it is honored by the nations all,
And, please God in Heaven, may it never fall.

There are so many things we can be thankful for,
Just think how victorious we came through the war,
And may we thank our Father as our flag is unfurled
That we have the best country of all the world?

So let's gather 'round the old table at home,
With very glad hearts and a prayer all our own,
That God has preserved us and our beautiful land
And be mighty glad that we're Americans.

We thank God in Heaven for gifts large and small,
But thank Him for freedom and peace most of all;
Before I close this I'd just like to say,
Don't forget our forefathers and their Thanksgiving Day!

* ROWAN COUNTY NEWS By S. S. Cassity

Howard M. Logan, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is slowly improving.

Mrs. S. S. Cassity is still confined to her bed with after-effects of influenza.

A Red Cross pageant will be staged at the court house in the near future for the purpose of increasing the membership of the local chapter.

A bunch of bad boys are in jail for rocking the windows of See's branch school house. There is a small army of such chaps in Rowan county who are budding for the penitentiary and we are looking to Judge Prewitt and his honest juries to give them their dues. The wickedness of these boys is due directly and indirectly to the moonshine whisky traffic.

It is said that the city council will impose a penalty on all taxes not paid by December 1. This is a darned poor time to spring an increase of taxes anywhere. The world is tax-ridden and the burden should be made lighter instead of increasing it.

The residence of Stoner Clark was burned while the family was out in town. The house and contents were a total loss.

Mrs. Hannah Nickell, wife of Mr. J. A. Nickell, who has been seriously sick for some time, is very much better and on the road to complete recovery.

Capt. Alex Simms, superintendent of the Morehead and North Fork railroad, will soon be able to resume his duties after a month's illness.

The waterworks agitation in Morehead, which brought the citizens together in "large and enthusiastic gatherings" some time ago, seems to have died a-bornin'. Since these do-less, dollar-less days set in many enterprises of "great pith and movement have turned awry and lost the name of action."

There is talk that Judge Allie W. Young will retire from active law practice and business life about January 1. Judge Young is now under the care of his surgeon in Louisville and is preparing for a surgical operation, the nature of which, however, is not serious, and his many friends here and elsewhere will hail with gladness the day when Judge Young shall be in the enjoyment of vigorous health. Speaking of Judge Young reminds me that the Republicans have been in power in Kentucky about long enough. The complexion of the next General Assembly will show that they are losing their grip and the tide flowing from them will increase in volume as the years go by. What we want in the field for governor next time is a sure winner and I believe the Democrats of Kentucky, when they next assemble in a state convention, will quickly decide that Judge Young is the "sure winner" they will be looking for in case he can be induced to enter the race. He would not only be a sure winner, but a broad and a brainy governor.
